ST. LOUIS AMERICAN
Weather Forecast Rain To-day.

Several firemen blown into the street by a hot-air explosion. Other firemen overcome by smoke, a janitor reported missing and a young woman bookkeeper carried down from the fourth story on a ladder were spectacular features of a two-alarm fire which did $8,000 damage to the four-story brick block at No. 91 Oliver street, Fort Hill square, this noon.

The police in John R. Wade, who discovered the fire in the basement of the block at L. M. Crane & Co., which occupy the basement and first floor. It was thought that, after notifying Mr. Wade of the fire, Wade climbed back into the basement to go to his office. Inquiry was made for him while the fire was being fought, but he could not be found.

Two Alarms Sounded. The fire started from some unknown cause in the room. On being told of it by the janitor, L. M. Crane ran over to Port Hill square, where spectators were out. As soon as the alarm was sounded, followed a minute later by a second alarm.

Thousands of dollars worth of damage. It was hard to fight as account of the heavy black smoke which rose from the fire and the fact that the fire was in the rear of the building. The fire was in the rear of the building. The fire was in the rear of the building.

When they started downstairs they were driven back by the smoke. The three went out on the fourth floor and saw just as the ladder truck descended around the corner of Port Hill square to the front of the building. A ladder was raised to the fire escape. The Allen brothers climbed Miss Macdonald up in their arms and took her down the ladder, with the crowd watching in great interest.

At first it was thought the fire would be kept in the basement. Suddenly an oil lamp exploded and sheets of flame and clouds of smoke belched out from the basement windows which rose five feet above the street sidewalk.

The second alarm was then sounded, and the firemen from the second alarm were sent to the fire. The fire was in the rear of the building. The fire was in the rear of the building.

Then came a hot air explosion, which knocked the firemen from their feet. The men were sent away from them and threatened around them. The men were sent away from them and threatened around them.

Other danger came out when they could stand it no longer. The fire was in the rear of the building. The fire was in the rear of the building.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Comptroller of the Currency

Murray said today that no demand has yet been made for money to move the crops; that the banks are "filled with money," and that it is difficult to get it out. The cheapest commodity on the market at this time, he said, is money.

$2,500 REWARD FOR SLAYER OF GIRL. BOSTON, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The reward for the apprehension of the murderer of the girl who was killed in the street in New York City is $2,500.

Tired, Wet Soldiers Routed from Slumbers at 3:30 A. M. to Fall Back Before Victorious Army.

Reds Had Good Scouts.

General Blier's movement that drove the Blues out of their position was one of cleverness and not of strength, which every organization was apparently familiar. In addition, it was clearly a case of a well-planned and executed strategy that the Red scouts had fully posted General Blier on the position of the Blues.

In the Red's advance there never was a sign of hesitation when the Blues' war was encountered and they were either captured or driven to in short order.

More expeditious and scientifically than the Blues' accompanied was the Red's advance.
